WHO BEAT THE GERMANS?

The Italians think they won the war because they gave tottering Austria a knock-out blow. The French think they won the war because their country was its scene and they stubbornly faced the foe from start to finish. The English think they won the war for various reasons, but chiefly because they are English. The Americans think they won the war because they came to the rescue in a dark hour, accomplished big things with unparalleled speed and did much of the very best fighting. All this is inevitable, human nature being what it is. But a persistent effort in England and France to be little the great part played by the United States is not so inevitable as to fail to smack of ingratitude and reflect little credit upon our two chief allies named. That there is such a persistent effort George Parullo, writing from Europe in the Saturday Evening Post of May 10, unhesitatingly asserts and gives proofs of his assertion.

Americans gave the continually advancing Germans their first check in their last great drive at Chateau-Thierry. Americans first broke through the Hindenburg line. In the great Meuse-Argonne offensive there were more than 800,000 Americans and less than 350,000 French. At the end of the war there were 1,950,000 Americans and only 1,725,000 English soldiers in France, and all through the October fighting our active forces exceeded the British more than 200,000 men. Yet both British and French speak slightly of American participation. In the beginning American troops were cheered everywhere in France and in all English ports, but now "all that is changed," and in both countries the upper classes at least have reverted to their old idea, contending that America held off until Germany was almost beaten and then crowded in that she might have a stronger voice at the peace table. Only the common people in the devastated regions of France are now inclined to give America credit for what she accomplished.

The writer of the article quotes from French mayors and civilians of the devastated area, but the most interesting recognitions of American accomplishment are from German sources. The chief of staff of the Third German Army, speaking last December in the occupied area, said he had participated in eighty battles and fought Serbians, Rumanians, Russians, French and British, yet he found the Americans "the bravest of our enemies, in fact the only ones who have attacked us seriously in this year's battles." Field Marshal Conrad von Hotzendorf is quoted as saying that but for America the Germans would have triumphed by the end of 1917 and that American man power as well as money, food and material defeated Germany. An ex-soldier in Coblenz is quoted as saying that the Germans whipped the English and French, but the trouble was the American snags they ran into last summer. The Americans "put up a fight" and there were so many of them they were everywhere. "There were too many Americans: so what could we do?" According to civilians in the occupied area, the returning German soldiers complained that they had been lied to about the Americans, finding out too late that they had come in great force, were all fresh young men and determined to conquer. "Our (German) soldiers say the Americans fought bravely and without fear, doing things every day that meant sure death."

SPECIAL ELECTION COST

The county controller has given as the reason for holding up the special election proposing the increase of the bonded indebtedness of the county on June 17, that the cost would be a great burden on the taxpayers of the county. In fact, it has been circulated that the cost of holding a special election would be anywhere from $15,000 to $18,000 and the controller has let this impression get abroad.

In looking over the last controller's report we find that the total expenses for the general election last fall, which included the pay of the return judges of the congressional and senatorial districts as well as the counting of the votes, which expense will not be incurred in a special election, was $5,700. This special election will not cost within a thousand dollars of the general election for the reason that the printing of the ballots and election supplies and some other expenses will not be nearly so high. The county can conduct a special election at an expense of approximately $1,500.

If there was no other reason than that the special election would give the voters the opportunity of expressing their sentiments on this issue, without any extraneous issues being injected, would of itself be sufficient to commend it to the voters and taxpayers of this county. But there are other and stronger reasons for the special election.

They have to do with the entire program of the State Highway department which is rapidly being made up. Should this county wait until next fall as has been suggested from one quarter, Washington county may not then have the same opportunity of getting the amount of money which the Highway department has promised and agreed to give provided Washington county is ready to meet it with a definite program, showing that its people have by their votes endorsed it.

And how much better it is to have this verdict come directly from the people themselves. Their action will morally, if not legally, bind any future board of commissioners to carry it out. And after all the people themselves are the government and their will should be the will of the public officers who derive their powers from them.

SHOWS WILL CARE FOR SOLDIER BOYS

That Charleroi will have more than its share of amusements and excitement is evidenced by the fact that the Brown and Dyer Shows and Trained Wild Animal Circus will hold forth at the Charleroi Ball Park all next week, afternoon and evening.

The Brown and Dyer Shows is one of the largest carnivals and week stand excursions in existence, it is so large that it measures favorably with the average circus that plays Charleroi.

One of the features of the week will be the night set aside for the returning soldiers or Veterans of the World War. Mr. Westerman, business manager of the shows has voluntarily offered to take care of the boys free and promises them a grand and glorious time on Monday evening, May 19.

Mr. Westerman states that it is the duty of every show owner in the United States to take care of the boys, as that is the least that can be done for those who have offered themselves for the supreme sacrifice. He claims, however, that quite a lot of show managers have shown a bit of reluctance in doing so.

All returned soldiers are asked to assemble at the Charleroi Fire Department at 7:30 p. m., Monday evening, where they will be greeted by the large white band of the Brown and Dyer Shows and will march to the show grounds, escorted by the local police force and headed by the Fire Truck. The Boy Scouts will be requested to be there as well as other organizations. Upon arrival at the show grounds all activity will be suspended until an address of welcome is made by the Burgess and Mr. Westerman of the shows, who spoke here on Liberty Loan last week.

Rev. M. M. Allbeck, pastor of Grace Lutheran church of Monongahela, and who is well known in Charleroi, has tendered his resignation to take effect on the 30th of June. Mr. Allbeck accepted a call to Zelienople.

William McClurg, who served in the Fifteenth Engineers, arrived home on the noon train from Camp Sherman. George W. Moody acting as a reception committee, took the returning soldier to his home on the hill.

Mrs. William Earl Beazell and baby Lucretia of Van Voorhis are visiting with the former's aunt, Mrs. Freeman Johnson, of Charleroi.

Cat a Model to Children.

In some of the little books which were published from 1900 to 1950, and a few of them even earlier, one finds the cat frequently set up as a model of good behavior, especially for little girls. She taught them by her example to wash their faces once a day, to look clean and neat, and when they walked out of doors never to step in the wet. One significant sentence reads: "It would be well for little girls to sit as still while they are learning their lessons."

"The intimate article of dress known as the corset which the majority of women wear but know very little about"

IN this pertinent way the well-known medical authority, Alice S. Cutler, M. D., describes the most important garment in the wardrobe of women.

"Buy your corset carefully," warns Dr. Cutler. "No one wants to be ill, and when women realize that the constant wearing of an ill-fitting corset helps to keep our hospitals open they will insist on being properly fitted to corsets instead of buying them hit or miss."

We unreservedly recommend Gossard Corsets, the original front-lacing corsets, as the complete expression of modern corsetry. Every Gossard Corset is hygienically correct. If properly fitted to the figure for which it was designed, and carefully adjusted each time it is worn, it will mould that figure to the ideal proportions of the type. It will give a perfect balance of form. It will safeguard the wearer against those bodily ailments that are often the result of improper corsetry. It will render a wearing service that a one is worth the price paid for the garment.

Gossard
CORSETS
They Love In Front

If you like, the new Spring and Summer Gossards are superior to those of the past season, which were generally acknowledged to be without equal in meeting the needs of active womanhood from the standpoint of comfort, hygiene, wear and figure improvement.

Our highly specialized fitted service reflects our sincere appreciation of the important relation a correctly fitted corset bears to your health, and to that perfect figure poise that gives the elusive charm of style.

"THE SPIRIT OF MEMORIALS"

As the spring blossoms into summer we feel, some of us, the absence of those dear ones who have passed to "the beyond." We miss their laughter, their kindnesses, their caresses. Ought we not give actual expression to the loving remembrance in which they are held?

The custom of marking their resting places is as old and as beautiful as the old, old world itself.

We cannot honor our loved ones more, nor perpetuate their memory more effectively, than by the erection of a monument. Properly carved, by a master artisan, such a memorial is a lasting tribute to our affection for them.

Is there not some one whose memory deserves this recognition from you?

BRING ACTION FOR ALLEGED DAMAGES

For alleged false arrest William and Bertha Mielster, of Charleroi, on Wednesday, instituted a suit for $5,000 against Samuel Katz. The allegation is based on a charge made against the plaintiff's by the defendant on February 15 last, wherein they were alleged to have stolen a pocket-book containing $500. A search warrant was issued at the instance of the defendant by Justice Whitehead, and the house and premises of the plaintiffs searched. The alleged stolen money was not found. The plaintiffs were discharged. A capias was issued for Katz and bail fixed at $1,000.

TROUBLE MAKERS ARE ARRESTED AT ELLSWORTH

Seven arrests were made in Ellsworth on Monday and Tuesday of Russians who are alleged anarchists and bolsheviks. This is the second time that arrests have been made in that section on similar charges. The men who were arrested were taken to the county jail on Wednesday night and will be held until arrangements are made for a hearing to be given them before the United States Commissioner in Pittsburgh.

The plot was unearthed by the state police, and the investigation, which led to their arrest, was conducted by the U. S. Department of Justice officials. It is alleged there is in existence in Ellsworth and vicinity an anarchistic organization, and it is hoped that testimony will be given by the prisoners which will lead to the discovery of such an organization, if it is in existence.

The men arrested were all employed by the Ellsworth Collieries Company and are alleged to have verbally distributed propaganda against the federal government of the United States and it is also said that literature was found in their possession which would classify them with the anarchistic group.

The department of justice for the past six weeks has been watching these and other characters and it is likely these foreigners will be deported if sufficient evidence is secured. One of the prisoners, Mike Berulen, was taken to Monongahela on Wednesday night, where he was given a hearing before Alderman Eivwood on a separate charge of illegal possessing firearms. Only two of the men arrested have families in this country.

Police authorities in Brownsville are searching for Rev. John Wilson an itinerant preacher, wanted in connection with the murder of Mrs. Robert English, aged 35, who was shot and killed in the basement of her home at Hiller, on the outskirts of Brownsville, Wednesday night.

Corns Peel Off Painlessly

There's Only One Genuine Corn-Peeler—That's "Gets-It."
There's only one happy way to get rid of any corn or callus, and that's the painless-peel-off way. "Gets-It" is the only corn remedy in

"2 drops of 'Gets-It'—Corn is doomed." The world that does it that way—effectively, thoroughly. Why get down on the floor, tie yourself up into a knot, and have to fool with "pack-ages" plasters, greasy ointments that rub off, sticky, tape, and digging knives and scissors, when you can peel off your corn or callus in one complete piece, peacefully and surely, with mame, simple, easy "Gets-It"? It takes 2 or 3 seconds to apply "Gets-It"; you use 2 or 3 drops, and that's all. "Gets-It" does the rest! Get rid of that corn-pain at once, so that you can work and play without corn torture. Be sure to use "Gets-It." It never fails.

"Gets-It" the guaranteed, money-back, corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. Mfd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

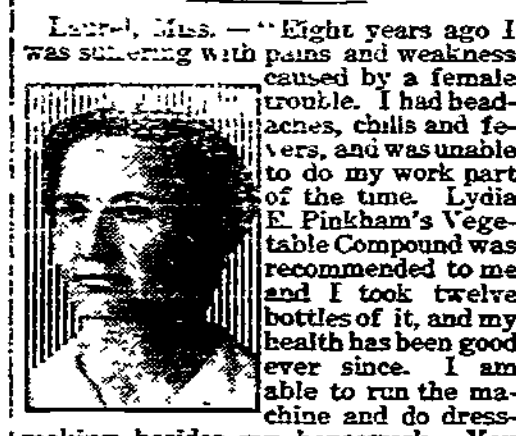

Sold in Charleroi and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by Frank J. John and Piper's Pharmacy.

MRS. SANFORD'S MESSAGE TO WORKING WOMEN

Laurel, Miss. — "Eight years ago I was suffering with pains and weakness caused by a female trouble. I had headaches, chills and fevers, and was unable to do my work part of the time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me and I took twelve bottles of it, and my health has been good ever since. I am able to run the machine and do dressmaking besides my housework. You are at liberty to publish my letter if it will help some poor suffering woman."

Thousands of women drag along from day to day in just such a miserable condition as Mrs. Sanford. Or suffering from displacements, irregularities, inflammation, leucorrhea, backache, headache, nervousness, or "the blues."

Such women should profit by Mrs. Sanford's experience and try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and find relief from their sufferings as she did.

For special suggestions in regard to your ailment write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of their long experience is at your service.
